

The Ultimate Training Opportunity

for Close Protection & Secure Transportation Practitioners

Vehicle Dynamics Institute

For the first time ever, Tony Scott's Vehicle Dynamics Institute (VDI), one of the world's premier providers of highly advanced security training programs, is bringing its world renowned training programs to Australia in an open enrollment format, providing professional drivers, security practitioners and independent service providers a unique opportunity to develop new skills, learn different approaches to close protection, and gain valuable insights into overcoming the challenges of providing discrete, effective secure transportation and close protection services.

Opportunity #1 Protective/Evasive Driving

Earn the International Security Driver Association Security Driver Certification upon completion

This three day course is designed to provide professional drivers and security practitioners with the knowledge, skill and ability needed to provide safe and secure transportation and the capability to overcome behind-the-wheel emergencies. This course, which is VDI's signature offering, is considered a "must have" among secure transportation and executive protection professionals worldwide

May 11th – May 13th

Your Investment: $2,500 AUD

Opportunity #2 Surveillance Detection Tactics & Techniques

Earn the Int'l Security Driver Association Secure Transportation Provider Certification when completed along with the Protective Driving Course

This highly interactive three day course is intended to meet the unique needs of security professionals that operate with limited manpower and resources. Through informative discussions, detailed case studies and challenging practical exercises, participants will gain an understanding of how to best integrate highly effective, low profile surveillance detection measures into their daily operations and functions.

May 14th – May 16th

Your Investment: $1,350 AUD

Opportunity #3 Best Practices for the Solo Practitioner

This intensive five day course is intended specifically for the security professional primarily responsible for providing one-on-one protection, who must rely on building networks of assets and ad hoc teams to be effective. This course introduces proven strategies and tactics for planning and providing effective protection while balancing multiple responsibilities.

May 19th – May 23rd

Your Investment: $2,950 AUD
